

The History of MALIKA

Description

Let's imagine we are on a boat in the sea..

Description

The boat swayed in the waves of the stormy sea, trying to sail with the heavy load it had. The sound of rain was dominated by the screams of pregnant women, fathers and children, the poor newborns forced to take such a dangerous journey in search of salvation.

The History of MALIKA

Description

On this boat there are a lot of people and the characters of our story:
MALIKA- OLAITAN her dad and NAFULA her mum

Description

After a long journey they are finally in Italy..

Description

In this other section we see that Malika arrived in Italy and she was transferred to a camp of refugees.

Description

A day in Italy Malaika was playing with her new friends, even though they didn't all speak the same language when she heard screaming.

Description

Malika was happy and she couldn't believe to this fantastic event. Now she could attend a school, learn the Italian language and live in this new country in a happy way. Her life was changed now. Her first day at school in a new town, the name of this town was SIENA- She tried to find the location on the map and she thought it could be a wonderful place.

Description

Malika now went to school and studied a lot of subjects. A day she had to write her first topic "My real story-life" this was the title of the topic. She wrote all his life. When she was in Africa and now in Italy. The teacher thought it was a fantasy story and so she told her:

Description

Malika began reading and all the students were interested to her topic, they began understanding that life sometimes can be difficult but it's important to hope that better time will arrive.

From that day on she and her family became real Italian people, they had many friends with whom they spent the weekends, now they were part of Siena.
